

Reputation is our business

Interested in strategic communications?
Meet us for a career workshop at LSE!

Finsbury is a global leader in strategic communications. We are trusted advisers to boards, senior executives and legal counsel of many of the world's most successful companies, institutions and organizations. We help clients communicate when it matters most: during times of opportunity, change and crisis. In recognition of this, the Holmes Report named Finsbury the Best Financial Consultancy in the World for 2014 and Financial Agency of the Year in North America in 2015.

Hering Schuppener Consulting is one of the leading strategic communications advisors in Europe and the market leader in Germany. Companies and institutions rely on us when communication is of the essence. We advise local and international groups, family businesses and large mid-market firms, financial investors, associations and institutions in mission-critical situations and long-term strategic positioning.

At our LSE workshop, we will present our companies, show you how we approach cases and are ready to answer any questions you may have about a career in strategic communications.

Date: Tuesday, 20 February 2018

Time: From 5.00 to 7.00 p.m.

Place: 32L.G.09

Registration: Send us an e-mail with your name and your study programme to sschmidt@heringschuppener.com

Finsbury, Hering Schuppener Consulting and the Glover Park Group, together form a strategic partnership. The combination of these three market leaders creates one of the few global platforms advising clients across all communication issues leveraging over 500 consultants in 16 offices around the world.
